ABSTRACT

This directory lists more than 900 organizations that provide individuals with access to the ERIC database and related resources. In order to help users quickly locate organizations where ERIC resources and related services are available within a geographically short distance, the service providers are presented in three sections covering the United States, outlying territories, and foreign countries. The directory updates the 1986 edition and includes new information service providers as well as 1989 data for previously listed organizations. It is derived from an online database that is updated on a continuous basis and will eventually be available for public access. Entries have been expanded to include hours and charges for special services. Organizations are included that: (1) provide computerized searches of the ERIC database on a regular basis, irrespective of whether the service is available only to a restricted community (e.g., state education agency or university faculty only) or to all users; (2) are current ERIC subscribers and maintain sizeable microfiche collections, or are former subscribers whose collections cover a 2-year or longer period; and (3) subscribe to and collect ERIC publications, including "Resources in Education," "Current Index to Journals in Education," the "Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors," and/or ERIC Clearinghouse documents. Also provided are a sample directory entry, statistical tables showing the geographic distribution of information service providers and the types of organization they represent, an alphabetical index of information service providers, and a directory of the ERIC system components. Toll-Free Number Makes Education Information Accessible

ACCESS ERIC is your gateway to the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC). Available toll free--1-800-USE-ERIC--ACCESS ERIC keeps you informed of the wealth of education information offered by ERIC.

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Educational Research and Improvement, ERIC helps teachers, journalists, librarians, students, parents, researchers, and policymakers stay abreast of the most important developments in the education field. Through ERIC, you can access information on a wide range of subjects, including:

- o Adult Literacy
- o Computer Uses in Education
- o Television Viewing
- o Educational Reform
- o Health Education
- o At-Risk Youth
- o Language Handicaps
- o Multicultural Education
- o Drug-Free Schools
- o Preschool Programs

With its toll-free number, ACCESS ERIC makes it easy for you to locate and obtain education information. One call puts you in touch with ACCESS ERIC information specialists who can answer questions, refer you to subject-specific information sources, and provide education-related publications produced by ERIC. Specialists are also available to speak at conferences, seminars, and workshops about the ERIC System, its resources, and products.

Call ACCESS ERIC and gain entry to a world of education literature and information. For more about ERIC, dial 1-800-USE-ERIC, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. (eastern time). Requests for information can also be made by writing: ACCESS ERIC, 1600 Research Boulevard, Rockville, MD 20850 (FAX: 301-251-5212).

Introduction

The Directory of ERIC Information Service Providers lists more than 900 organizations that provide individuals with access to the ERIC database and related resources. The Directory is designed to help users quickly locate organizations where ERIC resources and related services are available within a geographically short distance.

The information contained in this Directory updates the 1986 edition and includes new information service providers as well as 1989 data for previously listed organizations. Entries have been expanded to include such helpful information as hours and charges for special services when available. The format has also been improved--larger print with fewer entries per page offers enhanced readability and easy reference. A new feature, an alphabetical index of organizations, is provided for additional reference assistance.

The Directory includes organizations that:

- o Provide computerized searches of the ERIC database on a regular basis, irrespective of whether the service is available only to a restricted community (e.g., State education agency or university faculty only) or to all users.

- o Maintain sizeable collections of ERIC microfiche. Current ERIC microfiche subscribers are included (no matter when their subscriptions began) and past subscribers whose collections cover a 2-year or longer period.

- o Subscribe to and collect ERIC publications, including Resources in Education (RIE), Current Index to Journals in Education (CIJE), the Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors, and/or ERIC Clearinghouse publications. Not all subscribers to RIE and CIJE (some 2000 to each) have been included since some were not heard from and others did not elect to be listed as an information service provider.

Every effort has been made to provide accurate entries. Please keep in mind, however, that changes in service information are frequent. For this reason, it is advisable to call and check relevant details before you visit an information service provider.

This Directory of ERIC Information Service Providers is derived from an online database that is updated on a continuous basis and will soon be available for public access. This is one of several databases developed and maintained by ACCESS ERIC. Organizations that wish to update their entries and those that wish to be listed in future editions should complete the form in the back of this Directory and mail or FAX it to ACCESS ERIC (FAX: 301/251-5215). You can also call ACCESS ERIC at 1-800-USE-ERIC.

Other databases being developed, which will be available in both hard copy and online through a vendor, are:

- o Education-Related Information Centers
- o ERIC Calendar of Education-Related Conferences
- o ERIC Training Opportunities and Products

For more information about purchasing ERIC microfiche, obtaining online access to ERIC, or subscribing to ERIC publications, contact the appropriate agency listed below.

The editors of the Directory of ERIC Information Service Providers would like to acknowledge the contributions of Paula Seidman, Diane Loulou, Kelly Gainer, and Susana Wheatcroft to the successful compilation of this publication.

How To Use This Directory

The ERIC information service providers appearing in this Directory are arranged geographically and grouped into three categories: the United States, outlying territories, and foreign countries. U.S. entries are arranged alphabetically by State and city, whereas outlying territories and foreign countries are arranged by country and city. This arrangement places entries for organizations in the same city together for ease of location and referral work.

Information for this edition of the Directory includes updates from entries listed in the 1986 edition as well as new entries for information service providers identified since that time. Update forms (a sample can be found in the back of the Directory) were mailed to all organizations included in the previous edition. In addition, forms were mailed to all ERIC microfiche standing order customers reminding previous information service providers to update their profiles and inviting new microfiche subscribers to be included in the Directory. Subsequent follow-up telephone calls were made to all U.S. organizations that had not responded to the mailed invitations. Every effort was made to provide accurate and up-to-date entries. However, for organizations that did not respond to requests for updates, information is listed as it was in the previous edition and is considered current.

Directory Entry Description

While a sample completed form was included with all update requests, a variety of response formats were received. In order to make the entries in the Directory uniform, the following guidelines were followed when formatting the final entries:

- o The name of the director is not repeated in the contact field. If the director is the main contact, s/he is listed and no other contact name is given.

- o Equipment is always listed in the following order if it is available: Microfiche (MF) reader, Microfiche (MF) reader/printer, Microfiche (MF) duplicator, Copier, Microcomputer, Computer terminal, and Other equipment.

- o Collection is always listed in the following order if it is available: RIE, CIJE, Thesaurus, Microfiche, CDROM, Online database, ERICTOOLS, and Other ERIC resources.

- o Audiences are selected by organizations from a list of audience types, in order of priority. Where no such priority is found, audiences are listed from the most specific to the most general.

- o Services are listed in a uniform order based on a list of service codes distributed to organizations to assist them with updating their entry.

ERIC Clearinghouses

Each of the 16 ERIC Clearinghouses specializes in a different subject area of education. The Clearinghouses acquire significant literature within their particular scope, select the highest quality and most relevant material and catalog, index, and abstract them for input to the database. The Clearinghouses also provide research summaries, bibliographies, information analysis papers, and many other products and services. Together, the Clearinghouses present the most comprehensive mosaic of education information in the country.

New From ERIC

ERIC provides a variety of products and services to help you stay up-to-date on trends and issues in education. New from ERIC in 1990 is The ERIC Review. The pilot issue will be published in spring of 1990. Published three times a year, each issue of The ERIC Review will bring you current research findings and news of important ERIC and education-related developments. It will also highlights new publications produced by the ERIC Clearinghouses and the Office of Educational Research and Improvement as well as resources recently abstracted for the ERIC database.

You'll find nearly 500 education titles, including teaching guides, bibliographies, monographs, and more announced in the Catalog of ERIC Clearinghouse Publications. Many of the titles are free; others are available for a nominal fee. Produced by the ERIC Clearinghouses--together the most comprehensive source of education information in the country--the publications cover a broad range of subject areas in education, from adult, career, and vocational education to counseling and personnel services.

To stay abreast of events in education, you will want to order the ERIC Calendar of Education-Related Conferences. The Calendar is an extensive listing of national and regional conferences covering a full spectrum of educational topics. The information in the Calendar is maintained on an online database and updated continuously.

Order The ERIC Review, the Catalog of ERIC Clearinghouse Publications, or the ERIC Calendar of Education-Related Conferences, by calling toll-free 1-800-USE-ERIC.

One of the most cost-effective ways to access the ERIC database is through the use of microfiche indexes. The ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS) offers the ERIC Starter Kit for just $165 plus shipping. This package contains all ERIC document abstracts from monthly journal, Resources in Education, and six cumulative indexes, from 1966 to 1988, on microfiche. In addition, it includes a Directory of ERIC Information Service Providers and information on how to order ERIC documents. To order the Starter Kit, call toll-free 1-800-227-ERIC.

The popular ERIC Digest series is now available online through DIALOG. A new service from ERIC, ERIC Digests Online, contains more than 300 selected full-text syntheses of recent research findings on current trends and issues in education. All you need to access ERIC Digests Online is a computer, a modem, and a subscription to DIALOG (1-800-334-2564). New Digests will be added to the service as they become available.
